Freeze Opens Month of May in the North

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Cool, snowy, rainy and windy weather chilled and dampened the debut of the merry month of May today in areas from the Midwest into New York State.

Snow fell in cold air through the western lower Great Lakes region southward through West Virginia and in western New York. One to three inches of snow was on the ground in areas east of Cleveland to the Pennsylvania border. Gusts winds up to 50 m.p.h. swept some of the region. Two persons were killed in traffic accidents on snow-covered highways in Ohio.

Snow amounts measured up to three inches in parts of Michigan and two inches in Indiana, with lighter amounts in other areas. The three-inch cover in Grand Rapids, Mich., was the heaviest on record for the date. Rain and showers sprinkled areas in eastern New York and Pennsylvania eastward.

Freezing weather spread across the Great Lakes region as strong northwesterly winds fanned cold air from Canada into the north central region. Temperatures generally were in the 20s and 30s. One of the low marks was 24 in Marquette, Mich. Some of the cool air dipped southward into Kentucky, with the mercury dropping to near freezing in Louisville.

Ask Injunction Against Pickets

BENTON, Ark. (AP)—A hearing has been set for 3 p.m. Thursday in Saline Chancery Court on a petition asking an end to picketing and injunction against violence at the struck Wheatley Industries plant.

Attorney Bill Sutton of Little Rock, who filed the petition Monday, said employees who had replaced strikers had been followed as they left the plant and there had been attempts to force them off the road.

He said the employees also had received threatening telephone calls. Nails were scattered in driveways of the plant, Sutton said.

The United Steelworkers of America walked off their jobs at the pump plant March 7.

Last Day in Highway Job for Oliver

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — State Highway Director F. R. Oliver is to step down from his job today.

He resigned recently and took a job as a private highway consultant to the government of Thailand. Oliver came to the job Aug. 1, 1959, after working with the federal Bureau of Public Roads. He represented the bureau in Iran.

Oliver's resignation came amid reports that he was pressured out of the job to make room for Mack Sturgis, presently state Purchasing Agent.

Sturgis reportedly was the man Gov. Orval E. Faubus wanted for the post. The issue aroused indignation in the Arkansas Legislature and a bill which would eliminate a requirement that the Highway Director must be an engineer was beaten.

Chief Highway Engineer Ward Goodman has been appointed as deputy and acting director of the state Highway Commission.

Will March Route of Slain Man

By ACK STILLMAN

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) — An integrated group begins a walk through the Deep South today—planning to trace the steps of Baltimore postman William L. Moore, who was shot to death near Attalla, Ala., April 24.

The six white men and five Negro men face almost certain arrest in Alabama.

Each marcher is a member of either the Congress of Racial Equality or the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee. Marchers are to be accompanied by a truck driven by a member of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Moore was wearing a placard which proclaimed that Negroes and white persons should be allowed to eat together anywhere.

The "freedom marchers" said they are intent upon walking to Jackson, Miss., to give their integration views to Gov. Ross Barnett.

That was Moore's intention when he was killed. An Alabama grocer, Floyd L. Simpson, has been charged with the slaying.

The walkers plan to set out from the bus station here from which Moore began his ill-fated trek. They call their walk a memorial to Moore, a white man.

"We want to hold America's attention for awhile yet," they said in a formal statement. "We must reiterate this man's single, yet profound purpose—to express the ideal of human brotherhood by a peaceful walk through the American countryside."

The Alabama safety director, Al Lingo, has said any such demonstrators will be arrested and charged with disturbing the peace in his state.

President to Dedicate Dam in Arkansas

WASHINGTON (AP)—The dedication date of Greers Ferry Dam near Heber Springs will be set to fit the schedule of an important visitor—President Kennedy.

Kennedy announced Tuesday, during a conference with Gov. Orval E. Faubus and members of the Arkansas congressional delegation, that he would attend the dedication of the $46.7 million structure.

The huge dam, which cost $17.5 million, is complete and in use, storing water in a 31,500-acre reservoir. The power house is to be completed next spring.

The Heber Springs Chamber of Commerce had asked Kennedy to attend a Sept. 25 dedication, but said the date would be changed.

Army Engineers said the President's plane would probably land at Little Rock Air Force Base and he would be taken by helicopter to the dam site.

Kennedy had told Rep. Wilbur Mills, D-Ark., earlier that he would like to come to Arkansas for the dedication. But his decision wasn't made public until after the conference Tuesday.

It was announced by Pierre Salinger, White House press secretary.

Kennedy has been to Arkansas twice before during his tenure. He was at Texarkana during his presidential campaign and, while on his way to Oklahoma for a highway dedication, stopped briefly at Fort Smith.

Faubus is in Washington, with a delegation of Arkansas businessmen, for the annual U.S. Chamber of Commerce convention.

Middle East War Threat, Says Dirksen

By ERNEST B. VACCARO

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois today called the Middle East situation "explosive and dangerous" and said it holds the threat of a third world war.

Dirksen thus added his voice to possible Arab aggression against bipartisan expressions of fear of Israel.

"If we expect to maintain peace and to prevent a war erupting in the Middle East, as is always a threat, we are going to have to monitor the situation very carefully," Dirksen said in an interview.

"You cannot permit the situation to drift too long, because drift is always dangerous," he added.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., who spearheaded a flood of Senate speeches Tuesday demanding U.S. intervention, predicted there will be increased pressure "for a change in our policy of drift."

Javits proposed, among other things, that the United States attempt to get Britain, France, and other Western nations to join it in a collective defense agreement with Israel. He warned that "time is running out on peace in the Middle East."

His speech set off bipartisan appeals for this and other U.S. action, including a call by Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, assistant Democratic leader, for an embargo on arms shipments to the Middle East and stronger U.N. peace-keeping operations.

The speeches were arranged in informal consultation to give emphasis to pressure on the administration.

Javits and other speakers accused the Soviet Union of pouring guns, tanks, planes and ships into Egypt to reequip President Gamal Abdel Nasser's armies and of using every opportunity to stir up the Arabs because of Israel's commitment to the West.

Nashville Man Is Electrocuted

NASHVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Reece Anderson, 46, a Negro of Nashville, came into contact with a 2,600-volt power line while erecting a television antenna and was electrocuted today.

Anderson was putting the antenna on top of a frame house into which he and his family were moving. Sheriff Pomby Jackson said the sheriff said Anderson was killed instantly.

Union Ass'n. to Meet May 6

The Union Associational Brotherhood will meet with the New Hope Baptist Church Monday, May 6, at 7:30 p.m.

Rev. Lloyd Smittle will bring the devotional.
Rev. Hollis Dillard will bring the message.
Welcome to all, says Rev. G. W. Hooten, pastor.

Rush Found Guilty of Murder

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP) — Frederick Rush, 26, of Fort Smith, was convicted Tuesday night of the fatal shooting of his stepfather, Paul Rush, 56, last May 13. The jury set the penalty at life imprisonment.

The defendant was expected to appeal, but defense attorneys had no word about plans Tuesday.

Rush sat impassively while Pros. Atty. Lyman Mikel sought the death penalty in closing statements and showed little emotion when the verdict was returned.

Others in the courtroom burst into tears, however, and Circuit Judge Paul Wolf had to order some out of the room because of the commotion set up.

Two other persons are yet to be tried in the death of the elder Rush, a furniture manufacturer who was shot to death in the basement of the V&R Sales Company, a retail outlet he owned.

Raymond Woods of Roland, Okla., a cousin of the defendant, goes on trial Monday in Sebastian Circuit Court. Miss Carolyn Brown, the third defendant, will be tried May 13.

The state maintained that Rush shot his stepfather to gain inheritance of money, because the V&R Sales Co., in which he had an interest, was in financial trouble.

The defense maintained that Pat Taylor, a main witness for the prosecution, and described as a former girl friend of the defendant, was vindictive in her testimony and attempting to get Rush into the electric chair.

Miss Taylor testified that she had overheard the trio charged in the case plotting the death of the elder Rush and told of a trip to Tulsa, Okla., to find some one to do the killing.

Miss Brown testified that she and Woods were on a mountain top the night of the killing, shooting tin cans.

Rush denied any part in the killing.

In their closing arguments defense attorneys attacked the testimony of Mrs. Taylor, saying she "not only wants to punish Freddie, she wants to be there when he is punished and wants him to know she is behind his punishment."

Tom Harper, special counsel for the state, said the testimony of Mrs. Taylor had been impeached "by glib words and ridicule from attorneys at the defense table."

Seek Entries for Cooking Competition

The Southwest Arkansas Poultry Festival provides an opportunity for culinary experts of this area to cash in on their cooking ability by entering the chicken cooking contest at Hope May 25.

Entry blanks may be obtained by writing the Chamber of Commerce in Hope if your local chamber does not have them. There will be four winners at Hope, each of whom will receive a $50 Savings Bond and an Ark-La-Gas gaslight.

Bill Watson of Corn Belt Hatcheries and Mrs. Bettie Duncan, Hempstead county home demonstration agent, are co-chairmen.

Your favorite chicken recipe, expertly prepared, may well bring you fame and fortune. Deadline entry is May 15 and if entry blanks are not available locally, write Hope Chamber of Commerce for blanks and complete information.

Scholarship Aid for Music Club

The Friday Music Club of Hope has received an award from the National Federation of Music Clubs for its participation in "Parade of American Music" in February.

To help with a scholarship for a deserving student from this district to Inspiration Point, Arkansas Federation of Music Clubs' workshop at Eureka Springs, the Friday Music Club of Hope will have a silver tea Friday, May 3 from 3 to 5 p.m., in the home of Mrs. Sam Strong.

Live musical presentations will be given intermittently. The public is invited.

No Federal School Aid This Session

By JOHN BECKLER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic leaders of the House Education Committee have given up all hope this year for legislation providing general federal aid to schools. They are dropping it from the administration's education bill.

Chairman Adam Clayton Powell, D-N.Y., and other ranking Democrats have decided it would be futile to ask Congress now to provide aid for public elementary and high schools.

They still hope, however, to keep most of the rest of President Kennedy's comprehensive education bill in one piece, despite pressure from committee Republicans to concentrate on a single section—aid to colleges.

Abandonment of the proposal to make federal funds available to the states for public-school construction and teachers' salaries marks the third straight year Kennedy has been unable to get a vote in the House on what he has called the heart of his education program.

Religious and racial controversies plus widespread opposition to the concept of federal aid to education have built up a formidable opposition that makes the House leadership reluctant to risk a floor fight.

The decision to dump the general school aid provisions was reached Tuesday at a meeting of Powell and his subcommittee chairmen.

The committee leaders voted to try for an omnibus bill containing seven sections, most of which expand or continue existing programs.

They include: A one-year extension of aid to school districts crowded because of federal installations, expansion of vocational education, grants for education of handicapped children, expansion of aid to public libraries, grants to improve the quality of teaching, strengthening of federal-state-local cooperative educational research programs, and expansion of student-loan and other provisions of the national defense education act.

Wilson Is Commended for Law Work

Al Graves, a local attorney and Arkansas State Chairman for Law Day 1963, today announced that the 1963 activities were more widespread than ever before. He praised all of his Law Day Chairmen of local bar associations all over the State for their efforts in showing the citizens of Arkansas the importance which the Rule of Law places in our society.

He particularly praised the Hempstead County Chairman, John Wilson, who has coordinated school speeches, church sermons and civic programs throughout the past week. "John has really done a splendid job," said Mr. Graves. "I can only hope the rest of my local chairmen do as well."

Mr. Graves particularly stressed the point that "the purpose of Law Day is not to honor the legal fraternity far from it. Rather its purpose is to honor law and justice and the necessary place which they have in our society. Their principle should mean as much or more to the average citizen who is governed and protected by them than the lawyer who earns his living from them."

In connection with Law Day, Mayor Frank Douglas yesterday signed an official proclamation proclaiming today, May 1, 1963, as Law Day in the City of Hope. The Mayor's proclamation is similar to that signed by President John F. Kennedy and by governors and mayors all over the United States.

Man Drowns in Ouachita River

CAMDEN, Ark. (AP) — Stanley Wietecha, 50, of Camden, drowned in the Ouachita River Tuesday. Sheriff Grover Linebarrier said Wietecha and W. H. Benson had tried to go out to a house boat and found water too high to reach it by ramp. Wietecha rowed toward the houseboat in a rowboat, which began taking water and sank.

Wietecha tried to swim back to shore and made it to within 20 feet of the bank. Linebarrier said Wietecha was an employee of the International Paper Co. The body was recovered about two hours later by the Ouachita County Search and Rescue Unit.

FLYING PACIFIC — MRS. BETTY MILLER, A SANTA MONICA, Calif., housewife has completed an off-postponed 7,100-mile flight across the Pacific. Her flight plan took her over the same path which Amelia Earhart was flying when she disappeared 24 years ago, except Mrs. Miller headed in a reverse direction. She became the first woman to fly the Pacific solo east to west. She was at the controls of a Piper Apache twin-engine aircraft she will deliver in Australia — NEA Telephoto.

Last Piece of Dutch Empire to Indonesia

By GIL SANTOS

KOTABARU, West Irian (AP) — Indonesia took over West New Guinea, the last remnant of Holland's East Indian empire, today and renamed it West Irian.

The United Nations transferred control of the western half of the world's second largest island at ceremonies in Hollandia, Gen. Douglas MacArthur's wartime headquarters.

The peaceful transfer ended 13 years of struggle by Indonesia for the 159,000 square miles of jungles and mountains and 700,000 Papuan people, most of them still in the Stone Age. Australia governs Eastern New Guinea.

In keeping with Sukarno's policy of erasing traces of Indonesian's former Dutch masters, West New Guinea was renamed West Irian (Hot Land). Hollandia, the capital, became Kotabaru (New Town).

Foreign Minister Subandrio led the delegation of Indonesian officials at the ceremony. The Dutch government did not take part. The Dutch flag was lowered for the last time Dec. 31, three months after the United Nations started administering the territory.

Sukarno is due here Saturday and will have 12,000 troops on hand to greet him. The sleepy tropical capital already looks like an armed camp. Indonesia began shipping in infantrymen and military equipment Monday night.

Young Girls Sought for Contest

Young ladies from 18 to — are urged to enter the Southwest Arkansas Poultry Princess Pageant. The pageant will be held in Hope May 25th. However, the deadline for entering is May 15th. Entry blanks are available from the chamber of commerce in all Southwest Arkansas cities.

If your chamber is temporarily out of official entry forms they may be obtained at the Hope chamber of Commerce. Four winners will be selected at Hope to advance to Little Rock for the finals June 15th.

The state winner will not only become the state poultry princess, but will also represent the state of Arkansas in the Miss Universe contest in Miami this summer. There will be savings bonds for winners and all entrants will receive $15.00 from her sponsor to help defray her expenses. An exciting day is in store for the young lady who becomes an entrant in the Hope Pageant. Reception parade, luncheon, preliminary judging, Rehearsal, pageant, and princess ball are some of the day's highlights.

Young ladies who would like this glamorous experience with a chance to win a coveted beauty title are urged to enter right away since the entries will be limited this year.

Woman Flies to Hawaii in Small Plane

By ROBERT I. MYERS

HONOLULU (AP)—Betty Miller, 37, who made history Tuesday by flying her small plane from California to Hawaii alone, said she had only one hour's fuel left when she landed.

"I should have had three hours left, but I wasn't worried," said the Santa Monica, Calif., housewife.

Looking fresh, Mrs. Miller opened the cockpit door of her twin-engine Piper Apache and yelled to newcomers: "How's the ground feel?"

Her 2,400-mile flight from Oakland Airport to Honolulu International Airport took 17 hours 3 minutes.

The Hawaii trip was the first leg of her planned solo flight to Brisbane, Australia, a 7,100-mile ocean-spanning trip that will include stops at Canton Island and Fiji. She is flying a reverse course taken by Amelia Earhart in 1937 when she and her navigator Fred Noonan disappeared without trace while attempting to fly the Pacific.

"I would just love to have a drink," the aviatrix said. She complained that someone in Oakland goofed before her departure and filled her thermos bottle with boiling water.

Mrs. Miller said she will rest in Honolulu for "a day or two" before continuing to Canton Island. She had been expected to continue the flight after refueling in Honolulu.

Abortion Suit to Begin in Hot Springs

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—Dr. Richard Rutledge, charged with committing abortions, is to go on trial in Circuit Court in Hot Springs today.

Circuit Judge P. E. Dobbs denied Tuesday a motion for continuance of the trial.

Rutledge's attorneys asked the continuance, saying their client was undergoing tests and treatment for cancer in a Chicago hospital.

Rutledge and Mrs. Helen Kelso, a nurse, were arrested last November when police raided an apartment. Two other women also were taken into custody.

Mrs. Kelso and Rutledge have pleaded innocent and are free on bond. Dobbs said if Rutledge, who is free on $22,500 bond, failed to appear as scheduled today the court would take appropriate action.

A motion to delay the trial of Mrs. Kelso because Rutledge could not appear was held in abeyance by Dobbs, who said the court does not intend to try her separately. He said Rutledge would be tried first.

Fish Farmers Want G&F Controls Out

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Fish Farmers Association asked the state Game and Fish Commission Monday to lift controls which the association said are detrimental to the industry.

J. M. Malone Jr. of Lonoke, president of the association, headed a delegation which said fees charged in state and out-of-state minnow dealers to transport and sell minnows hurts the industry.

Nelson Cox, commission director, said the request would be acted on later.

The legislature recognized fish farming and the sale of minnows as an agricultural industry, exempt from commission controls, Malone said.

The association recently protested the arrest of employees of two Lonoke fish farmers. Malone said they were arrested under changes in the controls and had not been informed of the changes.

The best thing about popular opinion is it's not popular for very long.

Bad Weather Wipes Out 80% Games

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Wet, cold weather which had been keeping the crowds to sparse, shivering turnouts for several days finally wiped out 80 percent of the International League's scheduled baseball program in one night.

Richmond and Indianapolis played a doubleheader Tuesday night at Richmond, but it had no bearing on the standings because the teams split 4-2 decisions. The Virginians whipped Herb Score in the opener on fourth-inning home runs by Jack Davis and pitcher Al Downing.

Downing, first Richmond pitcher to go the route this season, checked Indianapolis on four hits and blanked the Indians after the fourth inning when Gene Stephens tagged the Yankee Farmhand for a home run.

Score, onetime strikeout ace of the Cleveland Indians who balked about returning to the minors then changed his mind, yielded three hits and walked four batters during his four-inning stint for Indianapolis.

Verle Tiefertaler posted his third straight victory for Indianapolis in the nightcap when a pair of walks led to Richmond starter Bob Lasko's downfall. Ken Berry homered in the second inning after the first walk, and a walk, Don Buford's triple and a sacrifice fly by Ramon Conde produced two more Indianapolis runs in the third.

Tiefertaler shut out the Virginians for six innings but stumbled in the seventh when Richmond rallied for two runs. Lefty Taylor Phillips choked off that threat, and veteran Warren Hacker put down another Richmond bid in the eighth.

The rained out games were Arkansas at Syracuse, Atlanta at Toronto, Columbus at Buffalo and Jacksonville at Rochester.

Angels Down the Yankees by 6 to 3

By MIKE RATHET

Associated Press Sports Writer

Ken McBride keeps setting up a rendezvous with fame, but someone is always breaking the date.

The 27-year-old ace of the Los Angeles pitching staff flirted with a no-hitter again Tuesday night, but eventually needed ninth-inning relief help before the Angels were able to subdue the New York Yankees and the reunited Mickey Mantle-Roger Maris combination 6-3.

Holding the Yankees hitless for 6 1/3 innings, McBride's second no-hit bid of the season was broken up with one out in the seventh inning when first baseman Joe Pepitone singled through the middle. To McBride, it was just another broken appointment.

Curt Simmons won his fourth game without a loss, allowing only four hits as St. Louis edged Milwaukee 2-1 and took over first place in the National League with its fourth straight victory and eighth in nine games.

Only one other game was played, in the AL, as Camilo Pascual scattered 11 hits and was backed by a 14-hit Minnesota attack that subdued Baltimore 8-1.

Six games were postponed due to rain.

The Yankees got to McBride for their first run in the eighth inning on Cleto Boyer's double and Tony Kubek's single. When Mantle and Maris singled opening the ninth, McBride was relieved by Jack Spring. Pepitone singled home a run and, after Art Fowler took over for Spring, Elston Howard singled home another. Boyer fouled out and pinch hitter Dale Long lined to Albie Pearson, who raced in for the catch and threw to second base to get Pepitone for a game-ending double play.

Simmons, lowering his earned run average to 1.25 with his fourth complete game, was tagged for a first inning homer by the Braves' Frank Bolling in the first inning, then had little difficulty until the eighth inning when pinch hitter Bob Uecker doubled.

Len Gabrielson followed with a single to right, but George Altman raced in and fired a strong, accurate throw that caught Uecker at the plate as he tried to come around with the tying run.

Southern State Wins in Baseball

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — Southern State nipped Arkansas Tech 9-7 in the opening game of the Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference baseball tournament Tuesday night and Arkansas State Teachers dropped Ouachita 4-2 in the second.

No games are scheduled tonight. Arkansas Tech meets Ouachita at 6 p.m. Thursday; Arkansas A&M meets Henderson at 8:30 p.m.

Tech got 13 hits but not when they were needed. Southern took a 3-0 lead in the second inning and clinched the game in the fourth, when relief pitcher David Robinson gave up five runs.

In the second game Ouachita held a 1-0 lead until the eighth inning, then ASTC's Bob Tiner changed the situation with a two-run double.

Ouachita's Doyle Davis made it home on a wild pitch by Steve Hathcoate in the bottom of the eighth to tie the score, but ASTC got the winning runs in the top of the ninth on a hit batter, a double and single.

master proved to be the deciding run for the Cards.

Five Twins' doubles off the Orioles' Steve Barber gave Pascual an early 3-0 lead and he held on until Minnesota put it away with a five-run burst in the eighth inning. Pascual drove in two of the runs with a single and Rich Rollins accounted for a pair with a double.

The subject on whether to re-route Highway 29 through Hervey Street or not:

Related matters dealing with this subject are listed as below:

(1) The idea was originated from a group of people who are only interested in making personal profits, benefits and gains for themselves. No doubt that the majority of the members of this group are key leaders of the Hempstead County Democratic Party.

(2) Another idea is — Why not re-route Highway 29 around town, west side of the Fair Park. A question was asked about this idea and it wasn't answered. This sounds much like the influence in part of those politicians.

(3) The present Hervey Street is ranked among the most pleasant and attractive thoroughfare in Arkansas.

(4) Events will happen if Hervey Street should happen to be part of Highway 29: It will —

(a) Cut away a big chunk of Garland School playgrounds and to create dangerous surroundings to our school children.

(b) Create greater inconveniences and inaccessibility to the County Courthouse, the Fair Park and some of the homes west of Hervey Street.

(c) Create greater hazards and inconveniences in part of our baseball players in trying to reach Fair Park, especially the Little League and Pony League members.

(d) Create greater hardships on part of the residents living on Hervey Street, financially and in location. Many homes on this street are not all paid for now, many residents have a limited income. They will be paid off at a loss and forced to move away to a new location.

This reminds me of an experience back in 1931, during the Great Depression up in University City, a suburb west of St. Louis, Mo. The mayor of our old town wanted to widen our street of Hanley Road. Only motive was to make money for himself and his political friends. This is the very similar pattern the politicians right here are trying to do because money is a very slow moving thing here. That mayor's plan was killed by the action of our old neighbors and he was voted right out of office.

Therefore re-routing Highway 29 through Hervey Street does not make sense and it does more harm to the people and the City of Hope than anything else. So why not run it west of the city limits, instead of through town.

Sincerely,
Grandison D. Royston, Jr.

U. of A. Is Winner in Track Meet

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — The University of Arkansas won a triangular track meet at Fayetteville Tuesday with 76 1/3 points despite a tie for the most first places.

Arkansas and Pittsburg, Kan., which had 73 5/6 points, each won eight events. Tulsa University won only the shot put and had 27 5/6 points.

The meet was run on a damp track in 50-degree weather.

Arkansas' triumphs came in the mile run, 440-yard dash, 220-yard dash, broad jump, 880-yard run, 120-yard high hurdles, pole vault and the hop, step and jump.

the research data more than we needed the publicity.
Q. There were two Minuteman failures last year at Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif. Can you explain those?

A. Vandenberg is where the whole missile system is brought together—the missile itself after preliminary testing at Cape Canaveral, Fla., the ground equipment necessary for launching, and the Air Force crews being trained to man operational sites.

Sometimes at Vandenberg we push the bird to its limits to see what will happen. We subject it to trajectory and heating conditions it would not have to withstand in operational use. Even so, our failures have been surprisingly few, and the causes have all been isolated and corrected.

Mrs. George Hosmer Entertains Seniors

Hawaii was the theme for a breakfast honoring the girls in the Hope High School Senior Class on Friday, April 26 in the home of Mrs. George Hosmer. Yellow and white garden flowers were attractively arranged in the home.

Miss Darle James met the guests at the door and presented a lei to each of the 54. They included Mrs. Calvin Caldwell and Mrs. W. A. Williams, senior sponsors.

The Hawaiian-style meal was served in an atmosphere of music from the islands provided by KXAR recordings. Mrs. Hosmer was assisted in the duties of hostess by Mrs. Forney Holt, Mrs. Jim James, and Mrs. L. J. Purdie.

Hickory Shade Fun Club Holds Meet

The newly organized Hickory Shade Fun Club met Friday, April 26 in the home of Mrs. David M. May. Mrs. Joe Willett won the door prize. The members decided they would meet the last Friday in every month with a family social every quarter.

After a general discussion, refreshments were served by the hostess. The next meeting, a card party, will be held in the home of Mrs. Jackie Willett.

Chapter XXVII

"Go away, you two, and let me think," she said. The quality of her voice had changed. I felt Nichols pulling me back. "Just talk out when you're ready to talk again. Come on, Mr. Ryan." We went back down the hall. Frances' bedroom door was open and a cop stood just inside.

Nichols had joined Cash, the fire captain, and the building superintendent at the center table. I heard fragments of their conversation. There was an awning down over the top of the terrace. It pulled up and down by hand from out on the terrace itself. There was no way to get at Dawn from above. The adjoining terraces were bricked off to make for privacy. No ledge to walk around.

"There's no overhang from this floor to the street," the fire department man said. "She'd fall straight to the street. Shouldn't we be spreading a net?" "Her chances if you did?" Nichols asked.

"One in a thousand from that height," was the laconic answer. "Then don't spread 'em," Nichols said. "Block off the street, but do it quietly, and unobtrusively. No one seems to have spotted her yet. Nearby buildings to the south are all lower, fortunately. Detour people by telling them there's a loose cornice — something — anything. I don't want staring crowds."

Fred Twining was missing. One of Cash's men had him in the kitchen getting what he could on Canada's murder and our reason for calling the TRPB man and Fred's going to see him. Cash, I found out later, hoped, through Fred, he might pick up Canada's killer. If he could show Pretty-boy to Dawn, a prisoner no longer, dangerous, he thought she might come in.

Nichols knew it went deeper with Dawn than the fear of Pretty-boy. My respect for him grew with each move he made. He came across to us now, wiping his perspiring face with a handkerchief.

"There isn't time for me now, Mrs. Terrill, to dig out the story of what has disturbed Dawn. I have to take what I can get without question from you and Mr. Ryan. There's got to be someone who can get at her — reach her. You say you're 'the last one'."

"She hates me," Frances said, in a flat, empty voice.

"I'd like to know why — but some other time," Nichols said. "Who does she care for?" "There's no special person."

"School friends?" "She went to a convent school near Peekskill. I suppose there were girls there — nuns — a priest — a Father Moran. They considered Dawn something of a problem child. Father Moran was, I think, a kind of trouble shooter. Dawn spoke as though she liked him."

Nichols handed her a small notebook. "Write down the names of the people who were with her at Ouachita Baptist College, spent the weekend with Bob's aunt, Mrs. Charles Reynerson."

Mr. and Mrs. B. N. Holt spent the weekend in Harrison and visited Mrs. James Holt and sons of Dayton, Ohio.

DOROTHY DIX

THIS SAILOR REALLY LOVES THE GIRL

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE
Dear Helen: When you receive this I shall be far out to sea, worrying my head off about my girl. She's 16, I'm 21 and feel even older for she's such a kid; pretty as a doll, still in school and trusting.

I couldn't bring myself to tie her down to a rover like me. We're on an extended cruise which will last until '64. Before I wrote her a letter saying goodbye and had one of the next-door neighbor's kids give it to her at school.

After I sent the letter I was in hell, thinking about how I'd deliberately put this girl whom I loved more than all the world, out of my life. During her lunch period she called and asked me why I didn't know and told her so, then hung up for fear she'd talk me into seeing her again. Silence.

A letter from her was waiting when I reached the ship. She would never love anyone else. One minute I'm of a mind to write her that she's crazy wanting to be anchored to a guy who's on the other side of the world. The next I want to pour my heart out to her on paper, say how deep my love is and ask her to wait. Which should I do? — Sailor-at-Sea

Dear Sailor: Your first impulse is right. Tell her it would be very foolish for either one of you to commit yourselves to a marathon of solitary waiting. The sensible thing for her to do is lead a normal life, date other boys and have a good time. And the same goes for you with other girls. This will give you both a chance to test the depth of your love. If separation strengthens it, so much the better. Of course there is nothing to prevent you exchanging letters or sending her little gifts in the interim, but make it clear that you're both as free as the wind ing and foolish." And yet you spent three paragraphs chastising her for being holier-than-thou. You accuse her of giving the impression of having done no wrong. To my mind, her only purpose in writing was to give as many girls as possible a helping hand. Perhaps in your desire to be discerning, you have become too analytical.

When you put one person on the back for having been a stripper and slap another on the back of the hand that reaches out to help strangers up from the mire, I think it is time for re-evaluation. — Old-Fashioned and Thankful for It

Dear Old-Fashioned: I appreciate the spirit in which you write even though not agreeing with you. Before answering "one Who Knows," I read her letter to my husband. He felt as I did that the girl was "confessing" to save her conscience rather than to help others. But we both agreed with her postscript. "If some wives cared as much after marriage as they did before, their husbands wouldn't seek love elsewhere."

Perhaps it was this which really irked you and your husband, especially that line of mine, "Cold-blooded, unresponsive wives are the cause of separation or divorce in three-quarters of the upper level marriages, according to the Kinsey Report."

Dear Helen: My daughter, divorced five years ago, is now going to marry a German, 58 years old. She is 53. He comes from is close-mouthed about himself—talks about a son but that's all. For my girl's sake, I'd like to know more about him. She would kill herself if she made another mistake in marriage. — Her Mother

Dear Her Mother: This sounds like the beginning of a first rate mystery. Has your daughter money? Does her job pay well? She'd better make certain of this man's motives before committing herself to marriage. Certainly they're old enough to know their own minds but a middle-aged woman can be very susceptible to flattery. Where did your daughter meet him? How long have they known one another? Who are his friends? What is his business? Did his wife die, or was he divorced? If worst comes to worst, the German Consulate, 460 Park Avenue, New York, N.Y., could check on his background.

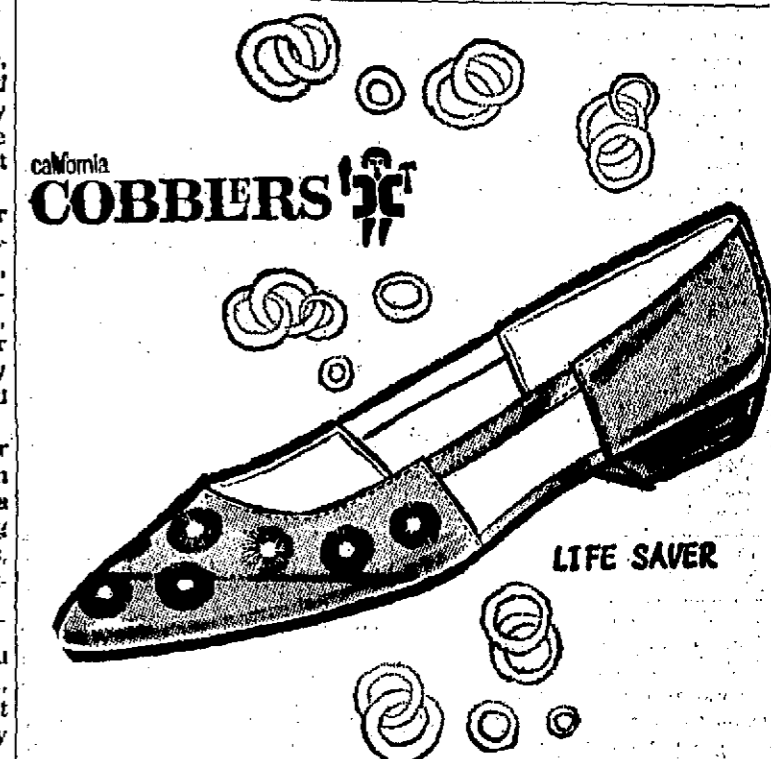

Have you a problem? Perhaps Helen Worden Erskine can help you. Write her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

California Is Big Power in the Derby

By KELSO STURGEON
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Thanks to a rookie trainer and a weather-worn Arizona cowboy who shocks the sophisticated racing world with his training methods, California will have its strongest Kentucky Derby representation in history Saturday.

John Jacobs, 28, will send Patrice Jacobs' California-bred Bonjour, winner of Tuesday's Derby Trial, in the 1 1/4 mile Derby. The Arizona cowboy, Mesh Tenney, will send out Rex Ellsworth's even-money favorite Candy Spots.

Everybody knows what unbeaten Candy Spots can do. Bonjour just adds a little icing to the cake.

"Bonjour is greatly improved since Santa Anita," said Jacobs, who has helped his father, Hirsch Jacobs, train since 1956.

Jockey Willie Shoemaker came from eight lengths off the pace to take the lead one-eighth mile from the finish in the one-mile $16,200 Trial. He won by three-quarters of a length over Walnut Hill Farm's Gray Pet. Ambush Stable's On My Honor, another California colt, finished third in a field of eight Derby eligibles. The other California colt that will start in the Derby, B. J. Rider's Royal Tower, sat out the Trial.

Bonjour ran the distance in 1 minute, 36 and 2-5 seconds over a track classified as good and returned $4.40 as the favorite.

Tenney said Tuesday night he doesn't care how Candy Spots runs in the Derby, just so he has a lot left for the stretch run.

Tenney, who trained the 1955 Derby winner Swaps, believes the best way to train a horse is the simplest way. He never knows for sure when Candy Spots will work out.

"If he feels like training a little bit," Tenney said, "we train a little bit. If he doesn't, we just wait for another day when he does."

Most trainers carefully sponge their colts down, brushing them very carefully. Tenney just turns a water hose on them and lets it go at that.

Candy Spots and Cain Hoy Stable's Never Bend, second choice at 2-1 to win the Derby, will hold their final workouts Thursday. Greentree Stable's No Robbery, the third choice, worked his final time Monday.

Beasley Out as Coach, but Will Teach

Superintendent of Hope Schools James H. Jones announced today that Coach Gordon Beasley who was recently selected as head football coach has resigned this position, effective immediately.

Coach Beasley will remain in the Hope School system as assistant principal of Junior-Senior High school and assistant coach for the next school year.

The position of head football coach will be filled as soon as possible. Application are being received by the Hope school board.

Shell scientists Dave Berry and Fred Schuette drove this highly modified 1924 coupe to a Mileage Marathon record. The car was rescued from a junkyard.

How a Shell research team got 168.47 miles per gallon in an off-hours experiment

—and how one of Super Shell's 9 ingredients packs about 4 percent extra mileage into every gallon

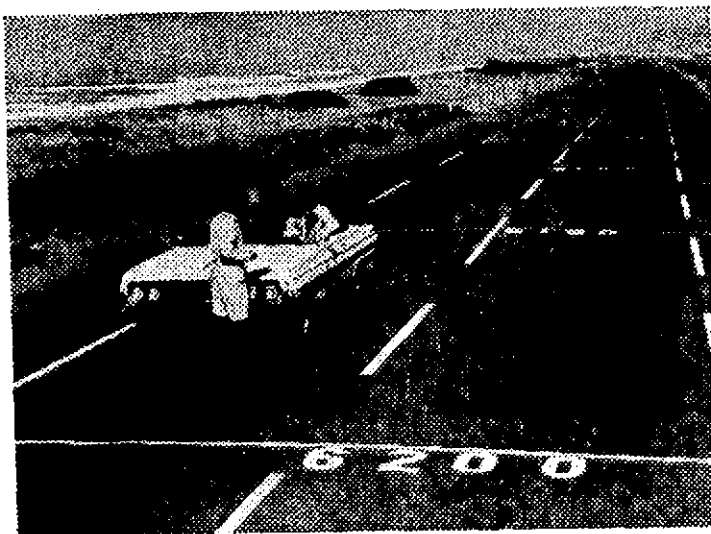

SOME years ago, a group of Shell scientists decided to see how many miles they could really get out of a gallon of gasoline. From their informal competition, the first Shell Mileage Marathon grew. The all-time winner of this event was the team of Dave Berry and Fred Schuette, with the astonishing average of 168.47 miles per gallon.

Berry and Schuette used a lot of tricks to set the record. Oversized wheels that drove them 9 1/2 feet per revolution. Tires worn smooth and overinflated to cut friction. An "engine-on, engine-off" driving technique, accelerating to 20 miles an hour, cutting the engine and then restarting when the speed dropped back to 5 miles an hour.

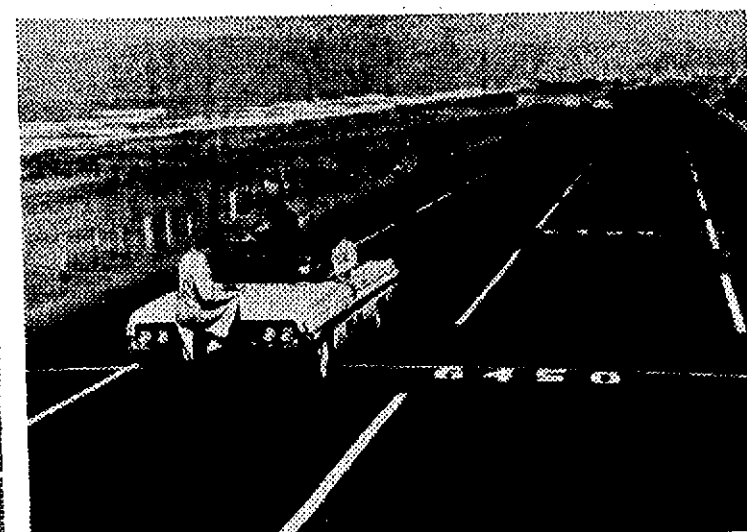

All illegal, dangerous or impractical on public highways, and definitely not recommended. But the point is this: at work and after hours, Shell scientists are forever learning more about cars and gasolines and how to make them work better together. An excellent example: today's Super Shell with Platformate.

How Platformate can boost mileage 4 percent

Platformate is one of 9 working ingredients in Super Shell Gasoline. It's made by tearing petroleum molecules

Without Platformate, test car ran 6186 feet on 250 cc (about half a pint) of fuel. Gasoline for this test was blended exactly like Super Shell but without mileage ingredient, Platformate.

With Platformate, same car ran 6454 feet. Same amount of fuel, exactly the same conditions, only this time using Super Shell with Platformate. Mileage boost: 268 feet or 4.3 percent.

apart and putting them back together in an expensive platinum re-forming process (hence the name). Platformate can release more energy per gallon than the finest 100 octane aviation gasoline.

Last year in tests in San Francisco (see results above), Shell scientists showed that Platformate's extra energy could deliver a mileage bonus of about 4 percent.
